

Scientific catalogues

Scientific catalogues register bibliographic descriptions of various types of publications (such as books, journals, musical prints and cartography) held by libraries and other scientific and cultural institutions. Multi-search directory engines allow you to search the resources of multiple institutions in an integrated way.